DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on July 7, 2008 has been entered.

Drawings

2. The drawings were received on July 7, 2008. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Aviza, PG Publication 2005/0126007.

Aviza discloses a razor apparatus/assembly in various forms with every structural limitation of the claimed invention including an adjustable guiding member (e.g., 24), wherein the adjustable guiding member is a lubrication member (e.g., see para. 0104).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
6. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Aviza, PG Publication 2005/0126007.

Aviza discloses a razor apparatus/assembly in various forms with every structural limitation of the claimed invention as described above for claims 1 and 9 including an adjustable guide member that is adjustable to a distance of greater than 2 mm above said plane as claimed, particularly depending on the scale to which the invention is made.

In the alternative, if it is argued that Aviza does not explicit teach or disclose such a feature, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide such a feature based on normal and obvious manufacturing and engineering considerations such as the scale of the apparatus/assembly and/or the manner in which the apparatus/assembly is intended to be used.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aviza, PG Publication 2005/0126007.

Aviza discloses a razor apparatus/assembly in various forms with almost every structural limitation of the claimed invention including the structure set forth in claim 8 (e.g., which reads on the structure of at least some of the disclosed embodiments including the cooperating threaded structures shown in Fig. 9A.), but lacks a spring means for pushing the guiding means into the frame. However, the Examiner takes Official notice that such spring means are old and well known in the art and provide various well known benefits including to provide a desired biasing action to facilitate movement of a component. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide such a spring means on the razor of Aviza to gain the well known benefits including that described above.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed July 7, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In the third paragraph on page 16 of the subject response, applicant argues that the prior art device does not disclose or suggest the recited structure regarding the guiding members, particularly the adjustable guiding member. However, the Examiner respectfully disagrees with applicant's position and takes the position that the prior art device discloses all of the claimed structural limitations those recited in the subject paragraph including guiding members, one being adjustable, wherein the guiding members and the cutting edge of the blade are positioned substantially in one plane, and wherein the adjustable guiding member is adjustable to a lowermost position where the surface of the adjustable guiding member is in said plane.

For at least the reasons described above, it is respectfully submitted that the prior art rejections must be maintained.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
